IV Nutrient Infusions Meyer's Cocktail

In clinic and mobile services

How Does IV Nutrient Therapy Work?

- Most people consume their vitamins and micronutrients through their food and supplements.
- Orally ingested vitamins and micronutrients go down to the stomach and intestines, where they are broken down by gastrointestinal enzymes and then absorbed into the bloodstream.
- There is a limit to how fast these substances can be absorbed from the gastrointestinal tract, so what is not absorbed continues through the body and is excreted as stool.
- Other factors that impact the amount of vitamins absorbed from the intestine are an individual's metabolism, age, genetics, and interactions with other orally consumed products.
- As with most of the vitamins and micronutrients going to waste, the body does not derive the full benefits of these substances when they are orally ingested as food or other supplements.
- With IV Vitamin therapy, the minerals and vitamins are administered into the body through the veins. Ultimately, only small amounts of vitamins and micronutrients go to waste during IV Vitamin therapy

The standard Myers' cocktail includes:

Vitamins: Vitamin C, B-Complex vitamins, Vitamin B12

Calcium: Calcium aids bone formation and strength. It also can help control irregular heartbeats.

Magnesium: Generally stored in bones, muscles, and soft tissues. It has been found to reduce fatigue, migraines, muscle spasms and may even help those at risk of cardiovascular diseases.

Zinc: Zinc has been proven to help regulate the immune system. Zinc is not naturally created in the body. Deficiency of zinc can lead to subsequent health issues.

Glutathione: Glutathione is a potent antioxidant that naturally occurs in the body. Glutathione aids the immune system and has been found to help in the prevention of cancer, cystic fibrosis, HIV, and the normal aging process.

Saline Solution: All ingredients for the Myers' cocktail are combined in an IV bag usually consisting of normal saline.

Studies have found the Myers' cocktail may benefit patients who:

- Suffer from low energy
- Perform athletic exercises
- Suffer from chronic fatigue
- Require intravenous hydration
- Seek relief from hangover or withdrawal symptoms
- Suffer from depression or anxiety
